

Kid Burns Now Fights Former Red Comrades

Refuses to Leave Canadian Union Meeting at the East Coulee on Sunday Afternoon

Commencing an attack on Communist control of the Mine Workers Union of Canada, Lewis McDonald (Kid Burns) attended a union meeting at East Coulee on Sunday afternoon and for two hours held up proceedings. The Kid occupied a front row at the meeting and when it was announced that only miners would be allowed within the building, the ex-Communist leader intimated to the chairman that he was quite qualified to be present.

The chairman called for someone to eject the intruder, but no volunteers were forthcoming. Finally the proprietor of the hall was sent for, who in turn got into communication with Constable Radcliffe, of the A.P.P., and at this point McDonald left the hall.

During the two hour siege, McDonald sought to attack the present leaders of the Canadian Union, claiming that they were in the control of the Communist party.

Lewis McDonald spent three days in the Drumheller valley this week-end, during which time he was in touch with various union officials with a view to establishing a branch of The Canadian Defenders, an avowed anti-Communist organization.—Drumheller Mail.

Yellow Stockings

One of the oldest Boys' Schools in the British Isles is known by the strange name of "The Bluecoat School", or Christ's Hospital. Like many other famous English schools it has centuries of history behind it. Wearing long blue coats and bright yellow stockings right up to the knee, the boys make a striking picture in the London streets or in the playground. Their attire is always the same, whether in or out of school; and despite the weather they go hatless constantly.

The Prince of Wales visited them lately and gave a fine speech on the opening of the New Science Building. Over 900 scholars were present. Their royal visitor by virtue of his princely office, knows the imperial value of a sound education. He emphasized the importance of study from an imperial standpoint, and impressed on the boys the value of mastering such subjects, as geography, biology, etc.

One sees more and more how universal is the appreciation of a sound education and its work to our children. In a recent pamphlet issued in Alberta, the Minister of Education says, "It is of the utmost importance as a piece of national insurance that our boys and girls receive the opportunity to fit themselves physically, mentally and morally for the proper discharge of all their duties and responsibilities both public and private."

Among the many agencies at work along these lines is the Junior Red Cross in the schoolroom, teaching by new methods, health citizenship and service. The superintendent will be glad to mail you information on this work. Write to 407-Civic Bldg. Edmonton.

Is It Fair?

There is a phase of selling permitted which is unfair to established retailers. Individuals engaged in regular occupation take on an agency to sell articles in direct competition with local retailers. They do not maintain any place of business. The fair way would be for a tax or license to be collected by the town by all who not being retailers, desire to sell anything. Business men on the town council should see that the retailers who pay heavy taxes, insurance on stock and who are sought for donations should have some protection against the promiscuous dealer or peddler.

Town Planning Commission is Probable

Development of Park at Crows' Nest Lake Principal Objective

COLEMAN, Oct. 28.—Coleman will probably appoint a town planning commission, in order to deal with development of the area around Crows' Nest Lake as a public park. Applications have already been made by interested parties for concessions, but the town council has held up action until a definite plan has been outlined, so that a comprehensive plan for future development may be followed.

Horace L. Seymour, director of town planning, Edmonton, intimates in a letter to the Board of Trade that the provincial parks commission will keep in touch with the local situation, though no assurance of government assistance can be given, as no provision has been made. In any event this could not be done till the estimates were under consideration by the provincial house.

If a town planning commission is appointed it will likely include the mayors and chairmen of the school boards of Coleman and Blairmore, and representatives of the board of trade executives.

Memorial and Armistice Day Services

November 9 being the Sunday nearest to Armistice Day, there will be a special memorial service in St. Alban's church at 7 p.m. A very cordial invitation is accorded to the veterans in Coleman, not a lone of the Great War but of other wars, also the scout troop.

On November 11, the actual commemoration of Armistice day, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion, commencing with the two minute silence at 10.58 a.m. Let us remember before God, in this greatest of all services, those whose lives were given in the cause of liberty and justice.—Con

Ship's Mascot Lost at Sea

A touch of sadness marked the return voyage, last week, of the C.N.S. "Lady Somers" (Captain B.W.C. Manning) to Montreal from the West Indies.

Many Canadian travellers who have visited the tropics, either aboard the "Lady Hawkins" or the "Lady Somers," will remember Perk, diminutive Dutch dog, mascot of both ships in turn and constant pal of Captain Manning. Perk is dead.

This gay little sailor, who seldom missed a meal, lived the life of a true seaman, interspersed with what thrills may be got from the ecstatic caresses of Canadian brides taking West Indies' honeymoons. The tiny member of the steamer's crew met a tragic and mysterious end.

One dark night, according to accepted theories, Perk ventured too near the rail which protects passengers but offers no protection for his tiny body. It was a wet night. Perk's favorite deck was slippery. A slight heave of the ship and the little chap skidded off into space and into tropic waters.

Unless a hundred miles or so is not too long a swim for a little dog Perk is lost and gone forever. The inquest leaves a finding of "Death by misadventure on the Spanish Main."

The Way to Sell

A specialist in market research and advertising said that the educational work in relation to organized advertising in Britain was in advance of anything done in any other country. A good advertisement followed by bad salesmanship is largely wasted; a bad advertisement followed by good salesmanship is fairly handicapped the latter. When the advertisement and the salesmanship are equally good, we get there.

Dastardly Trick on Auto Highway

Obstruction Causes Car Smash and Seven Passengers Severely Shaken Up on Friday Night

Public indignation was aroused over the placing of a railway tie and a log across the highway a short distance east of Coleman on Friday night. A Studemaker touring car driven by Harry Cady with his wife and five young people were proceeding to Blairmore, when they collided with the obstruction, with the result that the car was overturned. They were fortunately thrown clear, Miss Florence Cady being caught beneath the car but not injured beyond a severe shaking up. The entire party was dazed for a few moments, but were able to return to town in cars. In addition to the above named, those in the car were Miss Mae Bell, Jan. M. Neave, S. B. Ryan and Robert Pettigrew. The damage to the car is placed at $500.00. A piece of the windshield, lodged in the sleeve of Harry Cady's coat.

Investigations by the police resulted in the culprits being discovered. One was 17 years old, another 15, and three others between 11 and 13 years. They will be tried before Magistrate Graham.

Britain and a Wheat Preference

Whatever hopes may have been entertained by a considerable section of the Canadian people, our Western farmers in particular, that, as a result of the Imperial Economic Conference, the British Government would grant a preference to the wheat of the Dominions through the imposition of a Customs tariff on all foreign-grown wheat, have gone a glimmering with the definite announcement of Premier Ramsay MacDonald that the British Government will not take this action because it cannot be done.

The British Government is extremely anxious to help out the food producers of the Dominions. It is most desirous of promoting and developing Empire trade. It is willing to do everything it can, but it will not place a Customs tariff on the food of its own people because it cannot do so. As an alternative it is giving serious consideration to bulk purchasing of wheat by the Government with a view through such bulk purchasing to giving a preference to Empire-grown wheat.

Undoubtedly there will be regret and disappointment in this country over Britain's decision. It is to be hoped such feelings will not be allowed to develop into anything approaching bitterness or antagonism towards the Old Country. Canadians generally should strive to understand and appreciate the British position. They should realize the facts of the situation.

In Great Britain this is not a political issue in a partisan sense. Liberals, Conservatives and Labour are all of one mind that, whatever preferential policies may be evolved at this time, they cannot include taxation of food supplies. Mr. Baldwin, who is more favorably disposed towards adoption of a policy of tariffs than either Ramsay MacDonald or Lloyd George, nevertheless made it clear that he did not include tariffs on wheat and other food supplies and raw materials in his programme.

Here is the situation. Great Britain is a country small in area but with a large population. It raises only a small fraction of the food it people require. It is a highly industrialized country, yet the variety of its natural raw products for purposes of manufacturing industry is small and strictly limited. It secures the world for food supplies and raw products in order that it may exist. In order to pay for such food supplies and raw materials it must sell its manufactured goods abroad. Taxing its food and raw materials would so increase costs of production that it could not compete with other nations engaged in manufacturing industry. It would likewise possess large food producing areas and needed raw materials, as, for example, United States, Canada, Germany.

Now consider Britain's trade position with two nations, Canada and Argentina, by way of illustrating the position of the Old Country. Both countries have large surpluses of wheat for export; both are anxious to sell in the British market. Britain has two main markets here as she is anxious to export in large quantities—manufactured goods of all kinds and coal. The Argentine lacks coal, and is prepared to purchase it from Britain in exchange for wheat. Canada, on the other hand, is rich in coal deposits and is averse to large importations of coal from Britain entering into competition with Canadian miners. The Argentine is not a large manufacturing nation, and is prepared to purchase extensively in Britain, selling her wheat and meat products in exchange. Canada, on the other hand, is a manufacturing as well as an agricultural country. Its production of manufactured goods per head of population is one of the highest in the world. Canada is capable of manufacturing not only all the steel, textiles, boots and shoes, paper, automobiles, and a multitude of other articles required by her own people, but enjoys a large export trade in manufactures of all kinds. Canada, therefore, taken as a whole, is not anxious to take manufactured goods from Britain in exchange for wheat, meals, and various raw materials.

Therefore, notwithstanding a sentimental desire to favor Canada as a sister nation of the Empire, Britain simply cannot afford to impose a tariff against the Argentine and jeopardize her position in the Argentine market. Investments in that country, as Premier Ramsay MacDonald has stated: "We cannot do it."

Nations are like individuals in many respects, but in none more emphatically than in this, that they will buy where they can buy the cheapest and where they can sell their own goods and products in payment for what they do buy. Sentiment may alter this to some extent, but it can never overcome it.

The Americans, North and South, are food-exporting countries, with wheat the big item. Australia, New Zealand, India and no less Russia been in the past and will be in the future. China and Japan need food, but the economic position of vast millions of their people is not such as to enable them to buy high priced imported food products. The wheat exporting countries, therefore, look to Europe. But Europe, impoverished by war, with unemployment, rife, burdened with enormous debt, no longer possesses the purchasing power to buy high priced imported food products. Her people are being forced to raise more grain for themselves, or go without. Their Governments are making them do so as a national necessity to prevent the exportation of money abroad which the nations must raise at home.

In the circumstances, what is Britain to do? Further restrict the markets for her manufactured goods by imposing tariffs against those countries which are prepared to buy from her in exchange for the sale of food products and raw materials, thus intensifying her own unemployment problem and at the same time increasing the cost of food to her people and of needed raw materials for her industries?

The British Labour Government says "it cannot be done." The British Liberal party says "it cannot be done." The British Conservative party, while favoring tariffs to "safeguard" British industries, says in regard to food and raw materials "it cannot be done." It is, we repeat, not a political question in a party sense in Great Britain; it is an economic question. And in Canada, whatever our sentiments, desires, interests, or political views and opinions may be, it is just and right that we should at least look at and appreciate the British point of view.

At the last minute, however, His Majesty was forced to cancel the engagement, and a local notability was hastily substituted; but the managers of the affair thought it only right to notify ticket purchasers that Royalty would not be present. Presently a small boy, who was to take part in the parade, came along with a request for two tickets for his parents. He was told of the disappointment, in store for them. "Oh," said the boy, "they're not disappointed! It's not the King they're father and mother are coming to see—it's me!"

Wild Life Valuable

Canada realizes quite a revenue each year from its wild life. According to Dr. H. F. This valuation includes the fur harvest, game fish, and their influence on sales of sports goods.

Northern Indians Need Help

Federal Government To Take Steps To Relieve Distress

Hon. T. C. Murphy, Minister of Interior, is taking immediate steps to relieve distress among Indians who have neither money nor food to carry them through the winter. Discussing the conditions of these wards of the state, Mr. Murphy said that the Indians on the southern reserves, where agriculture is the main source of livelihood, are in fair shape for the winter months, and it is not expected that federal assistance will be needed.

On the northern reserves, where trapping is the only occupation, the Indians, in many cases, have had a hard year and are in urgent need of succor. The problem, he intimated, was not a purely unseasonal or extraordinary one. It is a matter of fact that the fur-bearing animals in these areas are rapidly disappearing as a result of operations of white trappers.

The Indians on these northern reserves are unable to catch enough fur within the limits of the reservation to make a living, and they have been accustomed to trap over contiguous territory. These non-reserve areas belong to the provinces. The federal government has no control over them.

The Indian, said Mr. Murphy, is a fur farmer, and does not exterminate wild life. But the white trappers who have gone into these areas, under provincial licenses, have had no regard for the preservation of wild life and have seriously depleted the numbers of fur-bearing animals. For this reason, many of the northern tribes are now in distress.

The Indian affairs branch of the interior department, under instruction from Mr. Murphy, is making a rapid survey of the situation and relief will be given at an early date.

Report Shows People in United States Consuming More

The people of the United States are smoking more and more cigarettes. Last year they consumed about 1,000 per man, woman and child, but the reports for the first eight months of this year show an excess over those of the same period for last year of 200,000,000. Benjamin D. Hill, chief of the tobacco division of the Department of Commerce, assumes that the increase will continue until the end of the year.

In times of business depression or periods of great stress, it has been the experience of the tobacco industry, that consumption of cigarettes increases.

IN MY REAL TRUST LIES THE WAY TO SOLUTION OF WAR

London, England.—The Prince of Wales told delegates to the Imperial Conference that in the establishment of international habits of co-operation and mutual trust lies the way to the solution of war. He spoke at a banquet to the delegates in the Guildhall, his words coming clearly to thousands of Canadians by means of radio broadcast.

"Britain and her Dominions," he said, "have solved the problem of disarmament among themselves and relegated war to the scrap heap. It is too much to hope that the other three-quarters of the world, despite difference in language, ancient enmities and mistrusts, may tread the same path?"

The approach of Armistice Day, he asserted, "recalls that awful period when the British Empire demonstrated to the world its own complete solidarity as the greatest brotherhood the world has ever known, and its readiness to help in the creation of a similar brotherhood among all nations."

"There remain those who profess a disbelief in the ability of the League of Nations to prevent war, but what," he asked, "have they to offer as an alternative for the establishment of peace and the rebuilding of world prosperity?"

Pledge Not Kept

British Government Protests Against Continuance Of Soviet Propaganda

London, England.—The British Government has made representations to Soviet Russia that the Moscow Government has not been observing its pledge against propaganda exchange between the two countries on the resumption of relations.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, divulged in the House of Commons that this representation had been made as a result of inquiry into propaganda carried on by the Third Internationale in Great Britain and other parts of the Empire.

"I asked the ambassador to impress seriously on his government that continuation of this propaganda would be calculated to endanger relations between the two countries. The ambassador, continued Mr. Henderson, 'said that the Soviet government would continue to observe the pledge but could not control the activities of the Third Internationale.'"

Loud Conservative critics greeted this statement, but the matter was allowed to drop.

Prospectors Drown In Northern Manitoba Lake

News Of Tragedy Reveals Tale Of Heroism

The Pa, Man.—Lakes of Northern Manitoba took their first human toll of the season when two prospectors, Charles Stabback and Fred Miller, drowned. They crashed through thin ice while travelling across Herb Lake. Details reaching The Pa from the north, indicate a typical northern tale of heroism lies behind the tragedy.

The men were travelling by dog team with a canoe on the sled. One prospector fell in while the other was able to swim himself. The man on the shore, not far away, obtaining a long pole and attempted to save his companion. Blundering through raging snow storm that swept the Herb Lake area, he met death with his companion. The pole was floating on the surface of the water to mark the tragedy for searchers. The bodies were recovered.

Brandon Entry Wins Egg Laying Contest

Race For Honors Was Between Saskatchewan and Manitoba

Brandon, Man.—The white leghorn entry of John R. Beer, Brandon, won the eleventh Manitoba egg laying contest conducted at Brandon experimental farm. The closing weeks of the contest were exceedingly interesting as the final outcome was in doubt until the last few days. During the summer months there were several pens with an equal chance of winning the contest, but during the final month the barred rock entry of W. C. Wroth's Sutton poultry farm, Welwyn, Sask., and the white leghorns entered by J. R. Beer.

At the close of the contest Mr. Beer's pen had a total of 2,270 eggs and 2,271 points, and the barred rocks owned by W. C. Wroth had a total of 2,207 eggs and 2,271 points.

Friedrichshafen, Germany.—Dr. Hugo Eckener, master of the Graf Zeppelin, denied that he had been invited by the British Government to testify in its inquiry into the R-101 catastrophe. He added that he had no intention of going to England for the inquiry, since he was not an eyewitness to the disaster.

Ban Reparations Talk

Berlin, Germany.—The foreign affairs committee of the Reichstag rejected all motions to raise the question of reparations revision in this session. At the same time it called for an end to the situation wherein a "disarmed Germany is surrounded by ever increasing preparations for war."

Recover Part Of Money Only

Winnipeg Police Succeed In Locating Only Part Of Loot Of Bank Robbers

Winnipeg, Man.—Detectives of central police headquarters made records in the fast round-up of alleged bandits in the Transcona Bank of Toronto robbery on October 1, but they have had little success, despite diligent search, in locating the majority of the $12,000 loot.

Ten persons were arrested in connection with the robbery, one is now under sentence of three years in the penitentiary, three others have been committed for trial, and charges are pending against the others. Only $3,000 of the $12,000 secured by the bandits has been recovered, and a "mystery man" is believed to have escaped with the missing $9,000.

EMPIRE RADIO STATIONS MAY BE ESTABLISHED

London, England.—At the Imperial Conference, the committee on communications, which has been considering the erection of an Empire broadcasting station, encountered both financial and technical difficulties. The cost of the central station, which would be built in England, is estimated at 40,000 pounds, or about $194,000 a year for the first five years. How the cost would be allocated has still to be determined.

Relaying stations would have to be constructed at a number of points to ensure proper reception. The idea would be to broadcast a regular radio program, including news bulletins, throughout the Empire. According to the skeletonized plan already submitted there would be four separate hours of broadcasting, and Canada, owing to the difference in time between the Dominion and the Old Country, would have devoted to it the early morning hours, so that the program would arrive before Canadian radio listeners had gone to bed.

The Sankey committee, headed by the Lord Chancellor, will soon have its draft report ready for the Imperial Conference. The report, dealing largely with constitutional issues, covers three main grounds: the channels of communications to be adopted as between Britain and the Dominions; the advisability of extending in practice the machinery of Dominion autonomy as recognized in the Balfour report of 1926 and the establishment of an Empire tribunal for the hearing of disputes between different units of the Empire.

The appointment of governor-general is understood to come under review. The British Government, it is learned, holds that advice on a proposed appointment given by a Dominion Government, to the King should continue to pass through United Kingdom channels.

The constitutional committee members were so intent on their work recently that they did not adjourn for

Pool Guarantees

Information In Connection With Wheat Pool Loans Will Be Given In January

Winnipeg, Man.—At about the end of January, "loans" to the Prairie Provinces in connection with their backing of Wheat Pool loans, will be definitely known, according to the statement of Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba. Mr. Bracken, who says that the prairies may lose more than $10,000,000 unless wheat prices improve, considers that the position of the provinces will not be determined until the un-1929 grain is disposed of—namely, he says, in about three months.

No ultimate loss will accrue to Alberta in any case, states Premier J. E. Brownlee, who claims that "it will all be taken care of by the Wheat Pool." He states that the prairie governments are not being pressed to meet the guarantees they offered to the lending banks and characterizes crop-loss talk as "a matter of speculation." No stand on the question has been taken by Saskatchewan's premier, Dr. J. T. M. Anderson, beyond saying that when the governments deem a statement necessary it will be made.

Premier Bracken at a luncheon described the $10,000,000 loss figure as "somebody's guess."

Hon. F. H. Borden retires from the government and his place as Minister of Lands is taken by Hon. N. S. Loughheed, former Minister of Public Works.

Hon. H. W. Bruhn, former president of the council, takes the portfolio of Public Works.

Hon. W. C. Shelly, former Minister of Finance, becomes President of the Council.

Hon. J. W. Jones, former speaker of the Legislature, becomes Minister of Finance.

Mr. Borden will go to London as agent-general for the province, succeeding F. A. Pauline.

Home Government

Will Not Interfere

Dominions May Choose Governor-Generals For Appointment By King

London, England.—The Daily Herald says one of the most important results of the Imperial Conference would be elimination of interference of the home government in selection for governor-generals for the dominions.

The paper said a method of procedure had been worked out in committee, and that in the future each governor-general would be appointed by the King solely in consultation with and on the advice of the dominion government.

SUGGEST BONUS TO ASSIST THE WHEAT FARMER

Ottawa, Ont.—A proposal that the Dominion Government grant a bonus to the wheat farmer whose wheat crops were caught in the rain and snow storms this fall is being given serious consideration by the Department of Agriculture. It costs three cents a bushel to dry tough wheat and five cents a bushel to dry damp wheat.

The proposal which the department has under consideration is said to be that the Dominion offer to pay one and a half cents a bushel on the grain caught in the storms if the province would pay a like amount. Should Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, decide to recommend to his colleagues that the government make such an offer, it would be accompanied by the provision that it would only apply to a limited number of bushels for each farmer.

The misfortune of having the crops injured by rains has made more acute the situation of the prairie farmers, already serious because of the low price grain is bringing. It is known that Mr. Weir has been studying every suggestion to cope with the difficulty regardless of from where the suggestions emanated.

Hon. George Hoadley, Alberta Minister of Agriculture, suggested that the Dominion Government provide free drying facilities at the terminal elevators. This has been studied by the Federal Department and it is understood many obstacles presented themselves. One was the vast amount of bookkeeping that would be necessary to differentiate between the wheat entitled to free drying and that which would be paid for. Often in drying, wheat becomes bleached, and suffers loss of a grade. The question would arise whether the government, in case of free drying, would be liable for loss caused by such improper drying. Experts estimate that much of the wheat caught in the rains would maintain 30 per cent. moisture. The point has been raised whether it would be economical to transport all this wheat to terminal elevators, whether it would not be much more profitable to feed it as it is.

One problem of course which applies both to a bonus and free drying would be that the farmers with big crops would reap the greatest benefit whereas the people most in need of assistance are the small farmers. For this reason it has been suggested that the number of bushels on which a bonus be paid to any one farmer would be limited. Should a bonus be decided upon it would not be taken out of the $20,000,000 voted to deal with unemployment, but from some other vote.

Feed grain to livestock is looked upon as the most logical way of alleviating the western situation, but many cannot buy the livestock and in a number of districts livestock for winter supply makes livestock farming difficult.

FREIGHT RATES ON ALBERTA COAL ARE REDUCED

Ottawa, Ont.—Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Mines, has announced that as a special measure to assist unemployment conditions prevailing in the coal fields of Alberta, the Board of Railway Commissioners had authorized the movement of Alberta coals to Ontario at a freight rate of $6.75 per ton, to be effective from October 25 to December 1 of this year.

The government had received from the Canadian coal committee and other coal interests in Alberta appeals for the assistance now being granted with a view of alleviating restrictions in the coal field by sending supplies to the Ontario market. Placed before the Board of Railway Commissioners and the railways these representations said Mr. Gordon, had met with sympathetic response.

The coal will move under the provisions of Order-in-Council P.C. 439, which has for its object test rates for the movement of Alberta coals to Ontario and the encouragement of inter-provincial coal movements. The Order-in-Council specifies a reduced freight rate of $6.75 per ton to be effective for not less than three months in each year during the time of its operation, which was first intended to cover the period from March 16, 1928, to March 15, 1931, but by a later Order-in-Council was extended for another year, to March 15, 1932.

The minister explained that while the railway board's present order is a special measure to provide the coal movement to take place wholly as an aid to the unemployment situation, he had the assurance of the Board of Railway Commissioners that before the period expires the board will issue another order making effective the $6.75 freight rate from December 1, 1930, to July 31, 1931, as a regular movement under the Order-in-Council. This means that from October 25 of the present year to July 31 of next year there will be continuous shipments under the reduced freight rate.

Reduce Initial Payment

Wheat Pool Makes Reduction On Initial Payment On Barley

Winnipeg, Man.—A five-cent-per-bushel reduction in the initial payment on barley was announced by the central selling agency of the Canadian Wheat Pool. Initial payment on the basis of No. 3 C.W. barley at Fort William will thus amount to 20 cents a bushel.

The reduction applies to all the malting grades and No. 3 C.W. Payment spreads on the lower grades have been narrowed somewhat, and are as follows: No. 4 C.W., initial payment, 17 cents; No. 5 C.W., 16 cents; No. 6 C.W., 14 cents, with a minimum payment of 12 cents a bushel on lower grades.

The Pool's initial payment was appreciably higher than the street prices paid by the trade for barley. It is pointed out by the coars grain committee of the central board in explaining the reduction. Since the recent slump in barley prices, prices quoted have been particularly lower on the higher grades produced in Manitoba. This, and "increasing deliveries of barley to the Pool made it absolutely necessary to reduce the initial payment," the Pool announcement said.

Earthquakes In Italy

Three Shocks Take Toll Of 15 Lives And Injure Several Hundred People

Senigallia, Italy.—Three earthquake shocks struck numerous cities along the upper Adriatic coast, taking at least 15 lives and injuring several hundred persons.

Property damage was enormous, but it was considered remarkable that the toll of lives was not greater. For scarcely a building in the cities of Ancona and Senigallia escaped damage and the quake struck terror to a score of towns and villages across 1,000 square miles of northeastern Italy.

Casualty figures were made available by the ministry of the interior, and though it was almost certain they would increase as additional information was received, it was thought unlikely that more than 35 or 40 had been killed in all the quake zone.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Though several weeks have elapsed since the Federal government sanctioned the grant of $20,000,000 for unemployment relief, the provincial government has not declared its plan of action. Mayor Moores interviewed the Premier and was told that the government had not yet decided on how relief would be issued. Government officials, with a comfortable monthly salary, do not appreciate the necessity of prompt action, while poor people living from hand to mouth are scratching for the next day's meals. If private business executives moved no quicker than government officials and strap-hangers in office, business generally would be down and out.

It's true that once a man is boosted into a government job, his ambition begins to wane. He figures he has a job for life, so why worry. And losing ambition, he very quickly finds ways and means of "passing the buck." The only way action is secured is by public opinion being sufficiently aroused as to compel action by the representatives of the people. And as it is the masses of the people who pay the piper, they have a right to demand action. Premier Bennett kept his word and now it is up to our provincial government to get busy. People requiring relief in the Crows Nest Pass need it now, not next year!

An 11-year-old girl was awarded damages of $5,000 for injuries sustained in an automobile accident. The case was heard before Judge Tweedie at Lethbridge. The driver knocked the girl down as he was passing a school at an excessive rate of speed. His lordship stated "no amount of damages would compensate the victim for what she has suffered, and will suffer from the damage to her eye, and for the handicap, socially and in business, she will be under with her features disfigured by the bones of her nose being broken."

The increasing frequency of automobile accidents impresses people with the necessity of sterner measures being adopted to deal with careless and incompetent drivers. Many should never, after a conviction in which there is indisputable evidence of gross or criminal carelessness, be permitted to again drive a car.

Wisdom comes with age. General Weyler, chiefly remembered for his part in the political life of Cuba just before the Spanish-American war, died last week. He was 92 years of age. "In my time I have seen much of the honors of the world, and I know they are worth nothing," he stated in a codicil to his will shortly before his death.

Here is something to the point, which indicates that Henry Ford's words so widely quoted are not the last thing in opinions when it comes to discussing the tariff. In reply to his statement that tariff protection is an excuse for laziness, one of his countrymen, Arthur Brisbane, widely-known editorial writer replies: "It may be sometimes in industry. But if Mr. Ford were trying to sell eggs in competition with eggs brought from China, he would sell his hens and call it a day. Also, if Germany had no tariff against foreign automobiles, Ford would not be manufacturing automobiles in Germany and raising German wages to new high rates. The business of a father is to protect his children. The business of a government is to protect its citizens and its industries."

Clothe some fellows with a little authority in government service and they would give the impression that they are deputies of King George or the governor-general. It is tin-horns of this type who pursue the one rut laid down in government regulations and that is the full extent of their ability—just obey orders. Initiative, vision or courtesy are qualities foreign to such numb-skulls. Such as these are barnacles, no matter in whose employ they may be.

This will be of interest to those who wonder why it is that goods cost them more when they charge them than when they buy for cash. Do business with a local store on the same basis as you do with a mail order house, and you'll find that goods can be purchased just as cheaply and of equal quality. "The storekeeper's worst enemy is long credits. His best friend is prompt pay. From an extensive analysis of the expense of a large number of stores, it was found that a cash store can do business anywhere from four to six and even eight per cent. less than a store where extended credits are allowed. This does not mean that a store cannot be conducted on a credit basis and be profitable; but credit involves increased expense. Promiscuous or unregulated credit spells extravagance and extra cost to those who pay their bills, and frequently spells financial ruin to the storekeeper."

Tuesday will be the twelfth anniversary of the Armistice. Everyone should remember it at two minutes to eleven o'clock that morning.

High-School 'Lit.' Held Social Evening

On Friday evening the high school literary society held a party in the K.P. hall, at which were present the high school pupils, the teaching staffs of the high and public schools, and about 20 invited guests, including board members. A program of short plays and other numbers was given from 7:30 till 9 p.m., and a dance from 9 till 12 p.m. Wilfred Mason and W. Parkinson supplying the music.

A presentation in form of a framed picture was made by the school board, to the students, for the fine showing they made in the departmental examinations last June.

Mr. Cameron delivered a short address commending them in their work in the past year and also credited the staff for their efforts.

Mr. Snowdon, chairman of the board, promised the students that five gold medals would be awarded next September to students doing the best work in the term commencing September 1, 1930.

"I sure thought of the old Sun Life when I was under there!"

A MAN, a mine foreman in Ohio, took out a policy for $2,500.00 on October 16th, 1926.

Four days afterwards, a section of the mine roof fell and twenty-five tons of slate pinned him down. In falling it fortunately formed an inverted "V", else he would have been crushed. Two hours and a half later a rescue party extricated him. As he was being carried to the surface, his first words were:

Death Claimed Bright Young Man on Thurs.

After Brave Fight Following Injuries Joseph A. Rayman Died Last Thursday

One of the largest attended funerals in the history of Coleman was that of Joseph Arthur Rayman. Leaving the home of his parents in West Coleman at 230, the procession, headed by Coleman Citizens Band, marched to the Church of the Holy Ghost, where the Rev. Father Lehman officiated at the funeral service. Many were unable to gain admittance.

Following the service, the band played the "Dead March in Saul," as the cortege slowly wended its way to the cemetery, where the committal service was read. The Miners Union marched in the procession, and about 50 automobiles followed.

This young man's death caused general regret, and many messages of sympathy were extended. He was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rayman, and had lived here for 16 years, attending Coleman public school for several years.

He is survived by his parents, and brothers Frank, George, Edward and Charles, and one sister, Mrs. Joe Reynard. A number of relatives also live in Coleman district.

The verdict at the inquest was that death was the result of injuries received in an accident whilst in the performance of his duties.

Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rayman and family desire to thank all who so kindly sent flowers and for the many messages of sympathy received in the death of their son, Joseph Albert Rayman. Also thanks to the Miners Union, and all who loaned cars for the funeral, especially Robert (Brick) Bell, who loaned his car for several days.

Floral tributes are gratefully acknowledged from Miss Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Wood and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kahout and Annie, Mr. and Mrs. White, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Ponderick and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fournelle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krywolt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Krywolt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roper, Mr. and Mrs. Krish, Miss Pardell, D. Re Serial Story

Through an error in making up the paper, the serial story instalment of last week was omitted, but will appear in the next issue.

Three Instruments in One

The first and only complete musical instrument for entertainment in the home ever made is the new 1931 Victor Radio Electrola RE-57 with the Home Recording device. It is now on display at G. R. Powell's store.

It combines the three instruments in one—with a marvelous radio receiver, an electrola which surpasses even Victor's highest standards in record reproduction and the new revolutionary invention, the Home Recording device which permits the making of permanent records of the songs, voices and messages of the family. The Electrola has a vastly perfected tone arm which reproduces recorded music with utterly new fidelity and beauty.

The cabinet of the Victor RE-57 is the climax of Victor artistry in cabinetry. Walnut-veneered and of classical Italian pattern, the cabinet stands 46 inches high, 27½ inches wide and 18½ inches deep. Its front is made of carefully selected oriental woods, while its doors are beautifully panelled and fitted with exquisitely-wrought brass handles.

It is important in buying a radio set that you purchase from a dealer who is not selling "orphan" sets. Past experience has demonstrated that a number of manufacturers have gone out of business, leaving purchasers without recourse if dissatisfaction arises. In buying a "Victor" from your local dealer, G.R. Powell, you have a firm of nation-wide reputation behind the product always ready to give service.

Obituary

Mr. Augustin Destobel, aged 65 years, died on Tuesday at his home in East Coleman, after a lengthy illness. With his wife and family he came here from Nova Scotia 18 years ago.

He is survived by his wife and sons Aimee and Alphonse, and daughter, Mrs. Ed. Ledieu, who have the sympathy of many friends in their bereavement.

The funeral service will be held this afternoon in St. Alban's church and burial in Coleman cemetery.

Coleman Glee Club Will Re-Organize

On Monday evening a number of former members of Coleman Glee Club met in the K. P. Hall, and appointed T. Elger Roberts as conductor, W. Haysom president, J. Houghton, secretary, and G. Dutfield treasurer. Practices have commenced, and it is possible that they may enter in the Crows Nest Page musical festival.

Important Notice

The Crystal Rink Co. management will consider leasing Coleman Rink for the coming season to a responsible and capable ice-maker. If interested see H. C. McBurney, president of the company.

Hunter's Narrow Escape From Violent Death

Erminio Oroffo narrowly escaped a sudden and tragic ending. With his partner, he was hunting jack-rabbits a few miles west. They were about 40 feet apart. Oroffo's partner, Gavin, saw a glimpse of something white stealthily stirring in the undergrowth, aimed and blew Oroffo's white leather boot almost to pieces. Packing the injured man on his shoulders he carried him for a mile or more to the auto high way, where a passing car was signalled and he was brought to Coleman hospital. His foot was badly lacerated by the shot.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. W. G. Fraser was admitted to hospital on Sunday. She has greatly improved since, and greets visitors quite cheerfully. She hopes to be back at her home in a few days.

John Denholm is still as cheerful as ever after nine weeks in hospital. He gets around with the aid of crutches, but is longing for the open air.

Jeff Knowles' foot which was seriously injured by a circular saw is under electric ray treatment, and is making slow but sure progress.

Miss Walker of the hospital staff has been on the sick list during the past week.

Mrs. Russell Smyth of Cowley is a patient, having undergone an operation.

Seriously Injured

Stephen Janak was seriously injured by being knocked unconscious by an auto on the highway a short distance east of Coleman. It was dark, and he had been riding a saddle horse, from which he had dismounted to tighten the girths. One leg was fractured in three places. The horse escaped uninjured. The car driver it is alleged was a mine employee of Bellevue. Janak is improving in Coleman hospital.

No Journal Last Week

In order to set at rest doubts of those who wondered why they did not receive last week's Journal, it was not published. The office staff was reduced through a very important event in the life of at least one member taking place, and the remainder of the staff decided to make it the occasion for taking a day or two off. We ask our readers to forgive the lapse of work and effort.

Injured Last Evening

C. J. Tompkins, well known Sun Life representative, was injured last evening whilst driving his car on the highway, when he misjudged the turn at a bridge near the slide and ran off the road into the rocky creek bed. He received injuries to his head, but not as serious as at first reported.

Here and There

(532) Possibility of Ghandi having reached the zenith of his power in India was voiced by Lt.-Gen. Sir George Cory, former deputy chief of General Staff, India, who sailed aboard S. S. Duchess of Richmond for Liverpool recently. "Time will very likely cure India of her ills, as it has before," was Sir George's view.

The hunting grounds of eastern Canada abound with big game and with wild fowl of every description as a result of wise game laws and conservation measures of the various provinces, according to A. O. Seymour, general tourist agent, Canadian Pacific Railway, who announces that opportunities for hunters in Quebec, Ontario and the Maritime Provinces were never better than in the present season.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, formerly minister of Finance in the King Administration, has accepted the position of vice-president and general manager of "Lucerne in Quebec," and will enter upon his new duties at once. The appointment was made public recently by E. W. Beatty, as president of that organization. Directors of "Lucerne in Quebec" make this announcement with a great deal of satisfaction, said Mr. Beatty, in view of Mr. Dunning's achievements in Canadian affairs and his outstanding personal character.

Canadian Pacific

A Mid-Atlantic Hello

"Hello Mother, We're having a wonderful voyage, left Southampton day before yesterday and arrive Quebec day after tomorrow." The young man whose phantom outline shows in the picture of one of the deluxe apartments of the new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain will be able, when the 45,600 ton ship enters service between Quebec and Southampton next June, to talk to anyone in Europe or the Americas for the first time in Canada's maritime history.

Above, a recent photograph shows the new liner nearing completion on the Clyde, and the telephone installation that will be a feature of every first class bedroom or apartment. Direct connection through the ship's switchboard with any land telephone will make calling Vancouver or Glasgow from mid-Atlantic just a matter of lifting the receiver and taking for the number. The Canadian Pacific announces that the wireless telephone will be so powerful that continuous touch will be maintained with both sides of the Atlantic. The magnificent new Empress of Britain, 760 feet long, 97½ feet wide and with a speed of 24 knots, will bring Cherbourg, Southampton and Quebec more than a day closer.

THE 1931 CROWS' NEST PASS MUSICAL FESTIVAL

The festival committee has been busy of late getting the programme in line for the 1931 festival, which takes place during Easter week. This programme will compare favorably with previous festivals. The adjudicators will be Mr. Thomas Jenkins, Welsh musical bachelor, of Calgary; and Mr. Grigori Garbovitzky, conductor of the Calgary Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Jenkins was late pupil of Sir Walford Davies, organist of Chapel Royal, Windsor, England, and is present organist of St. Stephen's church and teacher of piano, organ and theory at Calgary. He is a graduate of the University of Wales and took his degree of B.M. in 1925 at the age of 24. He was organist of one of the largest Methodist churches in Wales till September of 1929, when he received an invitation from the members of the vestry of St. Stephen's church to come and take charge of the music in that church. In January of this year, he was invited to be conductor of the Calgary Women's Musical Club choir and at the Alberta Musical Festival this year was awarded the gold medal in the open composition class.

Grigori Garbovitzky was born in the little town of Sivash on the island of Krim in the Black Sea. At a very early age he showed his natural love for music by picking out tunes on a toy harmonica. When nine years of age, he began to study violin and soon won for himself a government scholarship which enabled him to continue his studies for several years. After ten years study in various places, he went to Petrograd, where he entered the conservatoire and studied for a time under Coguiey, and later under Leopold Auer, who personally selected him from a group of students as the most promising among them.

Among his fellow-students while under Auer was Kathleen Parlow, who on her last visit to Calgary, the city of her birth, was surprised to find him among her many friends here, and spoke in high appreciation of his musicianship and work as a teacher.

From Petrograd Mr. Garbovitzky graduated as laureate—the highest honor obtainable in the conservatoire. During the war he was attached to the musical section of the Russian army, and after the Russian revolution he settled in Rostov, where he was conductor in the symphony orchestra for two years.

From Rostov, Mr. Garbovitzky went to Berlin where he had the exceptional honor, in 1922 and 1923, or being three times a guest conductor of Berlin symphony orchestra, also being asked to sign his name in what is known as the Golden Book, an honor extended only to the most outstanding conductors in the world.

Mr. Garbovitzky has also played under such famous conductors as Richter, Nikisch, Safonoff, and others, thus gaining experience which, together with his own natural ability has made him a master of his art.

Mr. Garbovitzky's remarkable knowledge of orchestration is due in a large measure to his association with the renowned Russian composer, Glazunov, with whom he studied for over three years.

Mr. Garbovitzky has as a teacher performed wonderful work during his three years stay in Calgary, his pupils winning almost all the available medals and awards in the Alberta Musical Festival and was highly successful in the examinations. His artist students have also been heard in exceptionally brilliant recital work.

Compare Home Goods Before You Criticize

Quality is As Important as Price and Local Retailers Offer Sound Values

(By G. F. Bouchat)

Not many months ago, in the dining room of a hotel in a prosperous little town, I overheard an elderly gentleman telling the diners at the table that the suit he was wearing had been purchased from a mail order house for $18.65. He was willing to bet his last dollar that local merchants would charge at least $25.00 for the same suit of clothes.

From the conversation that followed I gathered that one of his friends was a local business man, who was trying to show him where he was wrong by sending his money out of town. This elderly gentleman in return, was trying to display his independence by very emphatically declaring that he considered he had the privilege of spending his money where and when he pleased. The man may be had accumulated was his own, earned by the sweat of his brow.

His argument was without a doubt logical, but when he pointed out to one of the younger men at the table that he had started homesteading here in the west with only $135, I wondered if he realized that he was partially indebted to his local merchants for his present prosperity. Common sense would convince anyone that it would be a physical impossibility to start farming with $135. Those merchants who were pioneers in the district at the same time as he was, had taken a chance on him making good and given him a line of credit. They had taken a chance on weather conditions—in other words temporarily acted as his financier.

I have every reason to believe that he never gave this a thought. Quite appreciative, wasn't he? He was showing his appreciation by condemning them, when he knew not to what he considered was the most expensive dealer.

Eventually I was drawn into the conversation and when invited to give my opinion in the matter, simply asked the old timer to accompany me to the nearest clothier in town. I am convinced that he led me to what he considered was the most expensive dealer.

Without divulging the purpose of our visit we asked to be shown a suit of clothes similar to the one he was wearing. In due time a similar suit was produced, at least in outward appearance. I asked the merchant to leave us alone for a few moments. This he readily consented to, and no doubt wondered what the object of the farce was.

Immediately we were left alone. I asked my newly formed acquaintance to remove his coat and then proceeded to explain to him how cloth was manufactured—how inferior threads could be utilized in the looms while weaving—how the appearance of the cloth could be camouflaged in such a manner as to make it practically undetectable, unless of course, the buyer was sufficiently experienced in that line of goods to discover the substitute.

Though he assured me he had never witnessed material of this nature in the process of manufacture, very little time was required for him to personally discover the inferior substitution. And, remember, from all outward appearance the cloth seemed to be identically the same.

Very much to my own surprise I discovered that in place of every other thread being of inferior quality, there were two inferior threads to every good one.

Though conversed on this feature alone, I called his attention to the workmanship, padding of the shoulders, lining, pockets, cuffs, buttons, etc. The difference was as great as between day and night. As no price tag was on the garment, after comparison, he was sure the price would be at least $45.00.

Imagine his surprise as we were going out the door, when I inquired for the price and the merchant quoted $20.00. I really thought a volcano had gone into eruption. The old gentleman became pacific, lost control of his speech to such an extent that his language was far from being fit for repetition.

After he had calmed down to some extent he insisted on me going home with him. It being Saturday and having no particular desire to spend the week-end elsewhere, I consented. I met his family and was accorded the reception of a prince. The week-end could not have been more delightful.

Though this kind old gentleman felt he had been deceived by his old friends the mail order houses, he had not been deceived as badly as he pictured. He had ordered an $18.65 suit and he received what he ordered. The unfair feature of the situation was when he was trying to convince others that the same suit if purchased locally would cost almost double that price.

That he was completely converted was evidenced by the way he laid down the law to the members of his family about ordering from mail order houses in the future. He solemnly declared they would never again receive an order from him.

What a pity it is impossible to convert more of you in this manner. Seeing is believing, they say. Then by all means, if necessary, get a magnifying glass—investigate these things for yourselves—don't simply take my word for it. I will guarantee that if you do this your communities in a very short time will assume a different aspect.

"But—that's it," she said with sudden courage. "Did you hear what that dear old man said to me to-night? He said, 'Give him plenty of rope to run on.' And you'd be free without me, Nick, on this wonderful trip—a thousand times freer. You've given me the happiest week of my whole life. Only—only I should want you to come back to me again."

Nick looked at her. The moon was so bright that he saw distinctly the sweet curve of her lips, and the soft, dark hair above her brow. Something in her nearness made him curiously inarticulate, and she misconstrued his silence.

"I could go back," she hesitated, "and—when you got tired of roaming (and I suppose even the most confirmed vagabond has such moments), why—I'd be waiting, and—and glad to see you."

She could no longer control the tremble in her voice, and the sound awakened Nick from the trance her words had brought upon him.

"So that's your problem?" he said quietly. "Well, my precious little wife, I'm relieved to hear that, you've glad to see me! For just a moment I wondered if you were weary of your bargain. As for myself, Gay, I don't care for that long rope. It's so long that I can't see you at the other end. I don't want my freedom without you to share it. I know I'm a kid in lots of ways, dear—too much of a kid to know how dearly I loved you, even a week ago. But I know now. That answers your problem, doesn't it?"

He would have kissed her on the moonlit shadows in the valley. "No," he repeated. "Perhaps if I were a woman . . . still . . . my mother was not afraid. It was she who made me see life as I do. She was a poet, my mother. She didn't often put her poetic fancies into words; but the night she died . . ."

Again Nick seemed lost in thought; but as Gay's hand slipped into his he clasped it hungrily, and said: "I've never told this, Gay, even to Aunt Nettie, who knew all my secrets. My mother called me to her, because, desperately to be honest. "Oh, dear, I'm not afraid. Oh, Nick!" she cried, and faced him, her eyes like stars. "Oh, Nick, life is so wonderful! Just now I'm not afraid of anything!"

CHAPTER IV.

Gay did not know that she touched one of life's mountain-peaks when she spoke those words. Later she was to understand, and look back upon that hour as something precious. For life's big moments do not last. Their beauty perishes like the beauty of a rose, leaving only a fragrance and a memory.

Standing there in the moonlight with Nick's arm about her, Gay felt a sense of security and happiness that, in her ignorance of life, she thought must last forever. Nick loved her; and she was not afraid! Nothing would ever make her afraid again; yet four months later, when they stood together on another hillside, fear stared at her—not fear for herself, but the big mystery before her, but fear that because of it Nick's coveted freedom was at an end.

It had been a glorious four months. Leaving the "rusty flivver" with Mr. Bartlett, they had gone forth on foot, because Gay wouldn't let Nick change his long-laid plans.

"That's right," the old man said at parting. "He'll be happier to do just what he set out to do; and there's the railroad to bring you back if either of you gets sick or caves in on the job. You got plenty of money along, Nick? I ain't afeard' you to spend any more'n's necessary; but there's nobin' makes for comfort on a journey like a full pocketbook. If you need more'n you got I'll be glad to supply you till it's convenient to pay back."

"That's mighty kind of you," Nick answered, "but I think I've enough to see us through, thanks to my late uncle's not making the will in which he bequeathed to disinherit me. Thank you for housing the flivver for us, Mr. Bartlett. We'll call for it sometime during the next two years." "All right, sonny; but don't let that lady get tuckered out. If she does, just ship her back to me and I'll be proud to look after her while you're gallivantin' round the world. Good-bye, ma'am. I'd be pleased to have you drop me a card from every port."

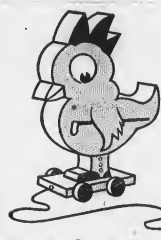

"I shan't forget to," Gay promised; then added, as something wistful in his eyes caught at her heart, "Will you kiss me good-bye in place of the father I can't remember?" "That I will!" he replied heartily. "If you'll guarantee I won't make no hard feelin' betwixt Nick and me! Good-bye, children. Don't forget your Uncle Sam when you're off to conquer the universe."

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

Says India Will Remain Loyal

Viscount Willingdon Convinced That People Of India As A Whole Will Remain Steadfast

"It is my belief that if we continue the administration of India in a sound and satisfactory way, being sympathetic to her but at the same time demanding law and order, the people of India as a whole will remain steadfastly loyal to Great Britain, and we need not worry about the agitators who are trying to stir up trouble." This was the conviction expressed by Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada, to members of the United Services Institute at Halifax, whose guest he was at Lunenburg.

Viscount Willingdon referred to the limitations placed on him, as a speaker, by his position, and remarked that he had "become almost a genius in speaking on nothing for a quarter of an hour."

His reference to India was made while touching upon the contribution made by the dominions in wartime, and of the present esprit de corps of the land, sea and air forces of Canada. India, too, had made sacrifices during the war, sending a million men to various fronts.

"One of the most important and critical conferences ever held," was his excellency's view of the Imperial Conference.

Touching on the general situation in Canada the governor-general said he was perfectly confident the present depression would soon pass away. "I know anything of the spirit of the Canadian people. I know that this dominion will soon go on with that sound and solid progress that has brought about the great development of this country."

Wartime Memories

British Foreign Office Would Discourage Perpetuation of Memories Of War

The British foreign office, wishing to discourage the perpetuation of memories of wartime antagonisms, has proposed to all European governments that henceforth memorial wreaths should not be laid on cenotaphs or tombs of unknown soldiers during official visits.

The Labor Government has issued no formal announcement of the step, but it is confirmed by the department officials. The government feels that in formal international intercourse the less emphasis on war the better.

An Oil For All Men—The sailor, the soldier, the fisherman, the lumberman, the out-door laborer and all who are exposed to injury and the elements will find in Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil a true and faithful friend. To ease pain, relieve colds, dress wounds, rub out lumbago and overcome rheumatism, it is excellent. Therefore, it should have a place in all home medicine cabinets and be amongst those taken on a journey.

Still Entitled To Pensions

Settlers Abroad May Keep Up Insurance In Britain

The British Ministry of Health has issued a notification, reminding settlers who have left Great Britain or Northern Ireland, within the last year or two, that under the British Pensions Act, which came into force at the beginning of the year, they may be entitled equally with those who have recently gone overseas, to revive or keep up their insurance for the purpose of securing pensions and benefits for themselves and their dependents.

If, however, they left the country before January 2, 1929, they must apply to the Ministry of Health, London, England, before the end of this year. The full facts of their case should be set forth in writing in order that the ministry may decide whether a person is eligible for pension or benefits.

Cattle Sales

The Annual Livestock Market and Meat Trade Review published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, shows that during 1928 a total of 794,835 head of cattle were sold in Canadian stockyards. This is substantially below the figure for any of the preceding five years. The total for calves, 378,860 represents a gain in sales of 17,800 over 1927. Montreal led the cattle trade with a total of 318,021 head, while Montreal West led sales in the calf trade with a total of 138,207.

Text Book Controversy

U.S. Text Book Used In Australia Described As Insulting

A United States text book—Hayes and Mason's Modern History—adopted as a standard book in the state of Victoria, Australia, has become the centre of a controversy.

The Australian Natives' Association, a national organization of Australian-born citizens, has protested against the book, describing it as biased, untrue, and insulting. State Minister of Education, Lemmon, is threatened with opposition at the next elections if he does not withdraw the book.

In particular the Australian Natives' Association say the following two statements are falsifications of the truth and an insult to Britain and Australian troops:

"The British collected a motley army, composed chiefly of colonial troops, and landed it on the tip of Gallipoli Peninsula, close to the Dardanelles."

The United States was the only great power that fought in the war without demanding or even desiring territorial gains for herself. She should be credited with a loftiness of purpose and unselfishness that could hardly be matched in all history."

The Japanese Method

Government Makes Law Which May Reduce Car Crash Crossing Accidents

Japan is having trouble with grade crossings. More accidents are being caused by motorists attempting to beat trains across intersections. The court of that country, however, is determined to aid in reducing grade crossing accidents. In the future the motorist who races trains to crossings will do so at his own risk. His train will have no claim on any railway company, public or private. The new ruling recognizes that the country will be benefited more by faster train schedules than by preserving the lives of those who are incautious enough to attempt to beat the locomotive.

Crying Babies Are Sickly Babies

The well child does not cry. He is happy and happy all the time. Baby's cry of distress is the only means he has of telling the mother or nurse he is ill. Hence, you can keep your little ones well and happy by giving them Baby's Own Tablets—the safe and efficient remedy for all childhood ailments.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative. They sweeten the stomach; regulate the bowels and thus banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. They are sold by all medicine dealers or mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

British Empire Trade Building

In connection with the proposed chain of British Empire trade buildings designed to promote trade between the different parts of the Empire, tentative plans have been presented for the Winnipeg building, which will cost between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.
